Lisa Caudill, Steuben County Humane Shelter, updated the Commissioners on the Shelter. Ms. Caudill stated that animal intake is trending about the same as last year and since May, they have taken in 326 animals and that should put them close to 1,000 animals for this year as well.

Lisa Caudill said that they installed a new software system called Shelter Manager and it has increased the efficiency of the animal handling. Ms. Caudill said that Alisa Mills, Director, has also enabled the Shelter to become more organized and efficient. She said that they have a new name, logo and website.

Ms. Caudill reported that they have had twelve (12) months of spay and neuter clinics that are open to the community and the procedures are done at a 50% reduced rate. She said that they did have grant money to help with those clinics; however, that grant money has since expired. They do have a new grant application in with the Community Foundation for that purpose again and are hoping to receive word on that grant soon.

She also reported that the Shelter provided 673 rabies injections to animals from the County last year and that was also partially funded by a grant. Stress relief clinics have also been provided to Trine students. Ms. Caudill said that they have been working with Community Corrections in allowing non-violent offenders to come to the Shelter to do their community service. She also stated that the Shelter is employing a teenager, whom has learning and physical disabilities, this summer.

Ms. Mills took it upon herself to reach out to LaGrange, Noble and DeKalb Counties and requested to band together and learn from each other. Ms. Caudill stated that several meetings have been held and Steuben County Humane Shelter is now the Shelter to watch. She said that the other counties are very impressed with the Steuben County Humane Shelter.

Ms. Caudill stated that they’ve had some challenges this past year and they have been called to two (2) murder scenes, one (1) meth lab explosion and several animals have been seized in multiple situations of hoarding and psychological issues with the owner. She stated that two (2) Pitbulls were seized and resulted in a lot of time and money being spent by the Shelter. Ms. Caudill stated that the owners were breeding the animals to sell the puppies for $1,000.00 each, purportedly to support another operation they had. She said that both animals were seized, the male was neutered and rehomed. The female was pregnant so she was taken to a safe haven due to the owners of the animals threatening the Shelter and a No Trespass Order was received due to threats made by the owners.

Lisa Caudill stated that the Humane Shelter is a vendor that the County and the citizens should take great pride in contracting with. She said that in 2015, 572 animals were taken in from the County out of 826 total animals. The County represents 69% of the total animals cared for. At a conservative cost of care it costs $150.00 per animal (the national amount is $300.00 per animal), the Humane Shelter provided $85,800.00 worth of service to the County in 2015. To employ an animal control officer, the national average is $35,330.00 and the county’s portion of that would have been $18,664.00. Lisa Caudill stated that the cost of care to the County was $104,464.00 in 2015 based on actual intake. She said that the community has increased the support more than they ever could have imagined, schools, universities, clubs, organizations, private citizens, businesses, unions, etc., have been raising money for the shelter and bringing in checks that they have never seen before.

Lisa Caudill stated that they are requesting that Steuben County increase their support as well and they are asking for reimbursement of cost of services provided in the amount of $60,000.00.
