QUARTERLY BUDGET REPORT
Town Manager Rogers provided the commission members with a printout of financial information to date for the current fiscal year. He discussed the various categories on the revenue side of the ledger and reported most to be operating on target. As the first quarter did not end until the end of the current month, some fund transfers had not been recorded. As for expenses, Mr. Rogers reported the accounts to be in good standing in reference to the percentages of monies used versus monies budgeted for the entire year. The only category to appear high was “other supplies,” including plywood and concrete, but the cemetery crew had done many foundations already this fiscal year. Overall, the budget figures are on target for the year.

SEXTON REPORT
Sexton Brick reported his crew had been preforming general maintenance tasks including the trimming of shrubs and hedges. With a temporary lull in services, the crew has had more time for the tasks. The crew also set the Gaudette corners, the Lawson bench, and a grass marker. The culvert at the northwest corner of the cemetery has been repaired and the heaved pavement smoothed out. At the Maplewood Cemetery, Mr. Brick has been working with George Mitchell, a neighbor, on a drainage issue. The culvert that leaves the cemetery and empties into the roadside swale on Farwell Street has been emptying onto Mr. Mitchell’s property. The culvert end as been cleaned out and the town highway department has constructed a swale to re-direct the water. The area has been reseeded and mulched and is in good condition. AT 6:30 P.M. AT THE TOWN CLERK’S OFFICE

OLD BUSINESS
A. Mr. Harrington gave an update on the status of the schematic maps and indicated progress in finalizing the maps. He also discussed his recent update of the veterans' information and additions to the list. Lastly, Mr. Harrington distributed a draft copy of the historic map for Wilson Cemetery that showed the position of the parcels at Wilson as depicted on the map donated to the commission by Andre Rouleau.

B. The Commission continued its review of the existing cemetery rules under the guidance of Mr. Miller. He distributed the final marked up version of the rules to the commission, sexton, and town manager and asked they all review his changes, all typed in red. Town Manager Rogers would discuss some issues with the town attorney, he asked Mr. Miller for an electronic version of the rules that would be forwarded to the town attorney for his review. All involved would bring final review changes to the October meeting for one last discussion if needed. Members were asked to make their final changes within the copies they received, mark their names on the front cover, and return their copy to Mr. Miller at the October meeting.

C. Members discussed the trifold information pamphlet and what it should contain in the further development of the document. The pamphlet will stress the need for commission review where called for in the regulations. The contact information shown will be revised to more adequately show who should be contacted during cemetery season and also the off season. A short history section will be added, services offered listed, and the photos captioned. The bulk of the pamphlet will be designed to help potential purchasers step through the various phases of buying lots in the town cemeteries and guide them through the steps that involve gaining cemetery commission approvals. Town Manager Rogers suggested adding QR codes to assist potential buyers by connecting their smart phones to the cemetery webpage for a review of the rules, regulations, and pricing.

D. The Shedd family, led by Mr. Martin, re-submitted the shop drawing for their private columbarium. Sexton Brick reviewed the document for conformance to the regulations, the commission approved the updated design.
