ZONING PERMIT INSTRUCTIONS
PLEASE READ

IT IS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT THAT THESE DIRECTIONS ARE READ BEFORE FILLING OUT THE ATTACHED PERMIT. FAILURE TO DO SO COULD RESULT IN THE DENIAL AND/OR DELAY IN ISSUING A PERMIT.

The names of both the landowner(s) and the applicant(s), along with their respective mailing addresses, must be included on the permit. If you are the landowner as well as the applicant, you only need to fill in the landowner.

Zone is the zoning designation your property is located in. The PARCEL ID# is most easily found on a tax bill and will be in the following form 000/00.00. Staff can assist if necessary.

Existing Use: What is the property currently being used for? If nothing is built on it then it is open land. BE SPECIFIC!

Nature of Work: What is it you’re planning to do? Again, be specific and include all construction activities including decks, porches, and sheds if constructing a new home. Failure to list all construction could mean additional permits in the future. Make sure to include all dimensions.

Change of Use: Are you converting something? For example are you changing a single-family dwelling to a multi-family dwelling? Changing an existing business to a new business? Use this space to indicate a proposed change of use. Be sure to describe the current use of the structure or property, as well as the proposed change.

Setbacks: VERY IMPORTANT! Looking at your property from the road, you must indicate how far the proposed construction is from all boundary lines and from the road. Failure to do so will delay the issuance of your permit. Estimates are okay if there is clearly ample distance. Staff can assist in providing the minimum setback requirements for the zone your project is in. Setback information may not be required for a change of use that won’t involve new construction.

Proposed Construction Information should be filled in to the best of your ability. Please indicate any other permits applied for recently or with this one by checking the appropriate boxes in the space provided.

Signatures: Only one signature is necessary if the applicant and the landowner are the same. However, permit applications will not be considered complete without at least one landowner’s signature.

Plot Plan/Sketch: VERY IMPORTANT! A place to sketch a plot plan is provided, with directions, on the back of the permit application (see sample below). Please follow the instructions carefully. An attached site plan may be substituted, but failure to meet the plot plan requirements listed could delay issuance of your permit. A plot plan may not be required for a change of use that won’t involve new construction.

Fees: Permit fees should be submitted at the same time you submit your permit application. Applications will not be considered complete until all fees have been paid in full. See bottom of permit application form for appropriate fees or check with staff.
