The office of the Chief of Police has authorized the release of the following information.

The Town of Niskayuna is working closely with the Schenectady County Office of Emergency Management to monitor the Mohawk River for potential flooding due to ice jams. Currently, there is a risk of flooding along the Town of Niskayuna river banks, including near the Rexford Bridge through Lions Park. Emergency Management will continue to monitor the water levels, and we will continue to communicate any further risks or warnings as they arise. Those living in low-lying areas should remain alert and be prepared to evacuate if it becomes necessary.
