

Altoona Arts and Culture Commission
Regular Meeting
Monday, March 7, 2022 | 12:00PM

The Altoona Arts and Culture Commission met on Monday, March 7, 2022 at noon at City Hall. Members present were Sarah Kavalier, Chris Lynn, Jackie Teeple, Alex Payne, Elizabeth Burns-Thompson, and Beth Van Ryswyk. | Missing were: Joshua Brown, Mike Lambert

Waiting on a couple members of the Commission to arrive, we moved forward with the agenda.

Olde Town Committee Update: Chad Quick. He spoke on the study done in efforts to revitalize the area. One of the first art projects out there would be the large piece announcing “Olde Town Altoona.” Additional ideas would be pop up stands, lighting, and a mural. Chad will send the assessment out to the Arts and Culture Commission. The goal would be to have someone from the Olde Town Committee come to us further down the road to make a request for work on projects with details when they are ready.

Discussion held over the DART art project. Two artists have been commissioned to submit work by June 1, 2022.

Spaghetti Session:

- Trail walks connected to all the art around town. Peggy Doane and Chad Quick are working on this concept.
- QR Codes for the art pieces to give more detail.
- Artoona
 - Integrated into the City Website
- More discussion on the Corn anniversary next summer.
- Neighborhood grants for art/beautification incorporation.
- Incorporate art with new businesses coming to town.
- Overpass LightBrite
- QR Codes on the trails.
- Scavenger Hunt on the trails, parks, and art.

Visitors: none.

Quorum was declared. Sarah motioned to approve the February Minutes. Jackie seconded. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Council Update: History and update on roundabout with Woven Lines (eta Spring 2023).

Chris made a motion to adjourn. Jackie seconded. All ayes. 12:54PM

Our next meeting will be on April 4, 2022 at City Hall.
