CLARE & MILES MILLS ROSE GARDEN

This historic garden located in Greenwood Park has been a favorite spot for gardeners, strollers, artists, senior and family pictures, and wedding parties since the 1930's.

A GARDEN WITH HISTORY

Planning was initiated in 1929 by the Des Moines Garden Club and its Founders Group. Landscape architect Harlan Bartholomew prepared the general plans and Des Moines architect Amos Emery designed the limestone pillars, benches, tea houses and flagstone walks.

In 1932, noted landscape architect Harold Farnham completed the central garden's detailed planting plans for more than 200 varieties of roses. It also included background plantings of shrub roses, climbing roses, lilacs, and evergreens. With both private and public support, the garden officially opened in May of 1933.

In 2002, the garden was proudly renamed the Clare and Miles Mills Rose Garden.

GARDEN HIGHLIGHTS

- 4.5 acres of beautifully maintained gardens
- Over 2,000 roses representing 100 distinct varieties
- Rose types include hybrid teas, grandifloras, floribundas, shrubs, climbers, miniatures, tree roses & All-American Rose Selections
- Every rose is clearly labeled, offering an educational and immersive experience for visitors

"The Clare & Miles Mills Rose Garden was a beautiful, peaceful location for our outdoor wedding ceremony! Des Moines Parks & Recreation was easy to work with in regards to reservations and permits."
- Hannah E.
