Troy will continue working on the proposed language, with the possibility of holding a public hearing in October to consider the policy change.

Brian McKellar, Insurance Update and review
Review and sign contracts for: APTA CSA, SISCO Renewal ASA, Regenexx Renewal, Stop Loss Application, Summary of Benefits and Coverages, Short Term Disability Contract, and Summary Plan doc

Brian and the Commissioners discussed APTA's performance from October to the present and reviewed how the County's insurance program has been operating during that time. Commissioner Smith stated that he would like to hold off on signing any insurance contracts until several recent employee insurance matters have been resolved and clarified.

Commissioner Mendenhall made a motion to table the signing of the contracts for APTA CSA, SISCO Renewal ASA, Regenexx Renewal, Stop Loss Application, Summary of Benefits and Coverages, Short Term Disability Contract, and Summary Plan doc. Commissioner Smith seconded and Commissioner Parkinson opposed. The motion passed. The contracts will be up for review and signing on the September 3rd agenda.

Marnie Spencer, Check-in and update, University of Idaho, Extension Service
Marnie asked the Commissioners if they had any questions or concerns regarding the Madison County 4-H program. She expressed excitement about the program's continued growth and noted that Madison County has one of the largest 4-H programs in Idaho.

Kirk Mace, Juvenile Probation Department Update
After review and discussion, Commissioner Parkinson made a motion to approve the contract for MOU with 3B Juvenile Detention Center. Commissioner Mendenhall seconded and voting was unanimous. The motion passed.

Amanda/Evan, Recap of Fair and Rodeo
Amanda and Evan, along with Chris Johnson from the Fair Board, presented a recap of the Whoopee Days Rodeo held in June and the Madison County Fair held in August. Amanda reported that ticket sales were lower than the previous year, which may have been influenced by rainy and cloudy weather. Although there were fewer vendors at the Fair this year, vendor-related profits increased. The Fair Board also utilized affiliate links to provide vendors with additional exposure and continue to explore creative ways to ensure local businesses and sponsors feel they are receiving value and adequate representation for their support.

A significant change this year was eliminating admission fees to the Fair. Amanda reported that the Fair experienced its best opening-day attendance, even compared with the traditionally busy Saturday event. Based on attendance and positive feedback received through Facebook and the community, there was discussion about continuing free admission at future Madison County Fairs.

Evan thanked Amanda for her hard work and organization both before and during the community events. He also expressed appreciation for her detailed reporting and recordkeeping, noting that the information she provides helps the Fair Board evaluate each event and make informed decisions about planning and improvements for future years.

Shannon Lewis, Car Show Discussion
100% of proceeds from tickets and sponsorships for the suicide prevention car show coming up will go to Center of Hope and Moving Toward Hope.

Corey Child, Informational work meeting
This meeting was put on the Agenda by mistake.

Discuss Policy and Procedure of surplus property
The Commissioners discussed Idaho Code requirements for the sale of surplus County property, which require proper public notice before the property can be sold. Questions were raised about whether posting the notice on Facebook would satisfy the publication requirement. The matter will be added to the next Department Head meeting agenda for further discussion and clarification regarding the appropriate process for advertising surplus County property.

Discuss Evaluations
Ann Marie provided some evaluation forms for elected officials for the Commissioners to review.

Executive Session: Commissioner Smith made a motion to go into Executive Session at 11:57 a.m..
