You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,130,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,164,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$33,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,440,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,483,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$43,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,010,300    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,040,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$30,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $818,200      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $859,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Philippe Noel
June L. Glover
194 Ivy Hill Cres
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $548,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $576,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$27,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $655,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $688,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$32,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $775,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $831,400      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$56,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $796,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $836,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$39,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Virginia Quinn
144 Brush Hollow Cres
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $523,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $549,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$26,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $793,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $833,500      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$39,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,172,700    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,207,900    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

9 Meadowlark Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,284,400    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,361,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$77,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Paul Snisky
Kelly Snisky
41 Meadowlark Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,571,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,645,800    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$74,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

43 Hillandale Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,716,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,819,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$103,000     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

OWNER INFORMATION

Robert F. DeLuca
Laura J. DeLuca
45 Greenway Ln
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $779,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $818,800      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$39,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Jean E. Follansbee
57 Greenway Cir
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $616,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $647,400      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$30,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $726,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $762,900      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$36,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $599,600      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $629,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$30,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Steven Brauntuch
Jennifer Brauntuch
55 Hillandale Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,951,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,068,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$117,100     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

804 King St
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,102,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,168,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$66,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

OWNER INFORMATION

Lori Greenbaum
Bruce Greenbaum
8 Churchill Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $988,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,047,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$59,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Edward Rabinowitz
Amanda Silverman
10 Latonia Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $2,010,700    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,131,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$120,700     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $954,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,011,700    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$57,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,026,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,088,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$61,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,488,200    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,577,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$89,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Jared Cutler
Carly Cutler
611 Pondside Dr
White Plains, NY 10607

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,103,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,222,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$119,200     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,106,900    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,173,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$66,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,247,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,322,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$74,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,010,700    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,071,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$60,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $953,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,010,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$57,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Michael Bensimon
Jennifer Bensimon
PO BOX 247
Port Chester, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,852,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,963,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$111,200     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Scott M. Adler
Ivy T. Adler
1 Winthrop Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,702,400    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,804,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$102,200     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $874,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $927,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$52,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Rye Brook, NY 10580

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,089,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,155,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$65,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Hugo M. Ayala
Katherine F. Hallissy Ayala
65 Rock Ridge Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,025,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,165,800    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$140,000     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Karit Veges-Albanese
62 Rock Ridge Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $999,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,059,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$60,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,448,900    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,535,900    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$87,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,102,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,168,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$66,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Gladys Tachdjian
54 Bonwit Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,126,600    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,194,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$67,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Jeffrey Mensch
Hannah Mensch
10 Red Roof Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $2,171,400    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,301,700    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$130,300     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.
