2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Giulio Amatuzzi
Lena Amatuzzi
720 River St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $831,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $881,900      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$50,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

811 N Barry Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $967,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,025,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$58,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

1500 Halstead Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $903,700      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $948,900      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$45,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $850,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $892,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$42,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $478,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $507,700      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$28,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $745,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $790,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$44,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Rhone A. Cornelius
Marcia R. Cornelius
625 First St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $597,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $633,800      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Pasquale Bruno
Sebasti Bruno
629 Lorraine St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $789,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $836,700      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$47,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $592,700      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $628,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

602 Jefferson Avenue Corp
130 Mountain Ave
New Rochelle, NY 10804

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $886,700      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $940,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$53,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $834,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $885,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$50,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $645,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $684,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$38,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Michael Decunzo
Elena Decunzo
519 Carroll Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $839,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $881,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$42,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Laurance Lambiase
Marie Lambiase
514 N Wagner Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $714,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $750,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $554,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $600,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$46,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $751,600      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $789,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$37,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Brian Viola
512 Fifth St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $879,200      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $923,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$44,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $925,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $971,700      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$46,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Paul D. Murphy
Alice M. Murphy
420 Edward Pl
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $645,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $677,400      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$32,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $890,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $934,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$44,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,024,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,075,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$51,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Daniel R. Walsh
Lisa Russell
1202 Park Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $596,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $626,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$29,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $915,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $961,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$45,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Gary D. Walker
Jessica A. Walker
425 Fourth St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $671,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $705,400      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$33,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,219,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,280,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$61,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $836,500      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $878,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $743,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $780,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$37,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,157,200    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,215,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$57,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,232,200    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,346,700    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$114,500     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $959,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,007,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$48,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $774,600      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $813,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$38,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Alpert L. M. Karell
1506 Henry Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $972,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,021,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$48,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Barbara Joan Crawford Revocable Trust
Barbara Joan Crawford
219 West St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $677,600      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $711,500      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$33,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Christine E. Fuhrmann
Andrew E. Fuhrmann
115 West St
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $986,400      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,035,700    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$49,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

John Shiboski Jr.
300 Jefferson Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,033,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,095,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$62,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $714,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $757,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$42,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Patrick Mahon
Loriane Echinard
640 Hillside Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $695,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $737,100      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

232 W 116th St #492
New York, NY 10026

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,289,400    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,353,900    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$64,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $884,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $928,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$44,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Dorothee S.K. Neau Ashby
221 Wagner Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $948,200      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,225,900    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$277,700     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $930,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $976,500      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$46,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $667,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $701,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$33,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $693,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $727,800      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$34,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

CaShawn Thomas
Natalie Fraser Thomas
209 Jensen Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $629,600      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $655,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$25,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $818,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $858,900      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$40,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

David & Daphne Zhou Living Trust
David & Daphne Zhou
600 Hillside Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $827,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $869,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.
