309 Hornidge Rd
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $721,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $758,000      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$36,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Ida Panetta Irrevocable Trust
Ida Panetta
1309 Sunnyside Ave
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $875,100      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $918,900      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$43,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Mamaroneck, NY 10543

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $823,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $864,200      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,139,400    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,219,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$79,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Frank Corbo
Sara Corbo
1 Millenium PI
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,326,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,419,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$92,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $871,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $923,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$51,800      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,149,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,229,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$80,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Hamas Dawn Kasparian
Karekin Kasparian
2 Reunion Rd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $892,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $936,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$44,300      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

OWNER INFORMATION

Joan Buzzetta
Vincent Buzzetta
174 Jones Creek Dr
Jupiter, FL 33458

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $958,900      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,026,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$67,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,207,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,291,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$84,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Samad Namin
5 McGuiness Ln
White Plains, NY 10605

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $947,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,057,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$109,700     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Jason A. Wolff
Jennifer Wolff
14 BelleFair Blvd
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,028,900    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,101,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$72,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Vilma Regueira
12 High Point Cir
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $351,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $375,600      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$24,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,971,200    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,089,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$118,300     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $2,003,994    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,124,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$120,306     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Olufunmilayo Ayoola Nubi
8 Mulberry Ct
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,598,600    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,694,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$96,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Suzanne G. Keay
John I. Keay
12 Primrose Ln
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,597,600    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,693,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$95,900      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

7410 Floranada Way
Del Ray Beach, FL 33446

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,228,386    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,302,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$73,714      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $756,800      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $802,300      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$45,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,159,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,271,800    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$112,000     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $785,000      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $832,100      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$47,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $804,300      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $895,700      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$91,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $633,990      | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $672,100      | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$38,110      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,085,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,151,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$65,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,026,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,088,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$61,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,144,300    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,213,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$68,700      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,592,700    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,688,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$95,600      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

OWNER INFORMATION

Robert Napack
Rosalind Napack
23 Carol Ct
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,806,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,914,400    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$108,400     |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,971,500    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,030,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$59,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,202,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,238,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$36,100      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,174,700    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,209,900    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,156,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,214,200    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$58,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,313,300    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,352,700    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$39,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

OWNER INFORMATION

Jason Greenberg
Melissa Greenberg
129 Country Ridge Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,701,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,752,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$51,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,445,900    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,489,300    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$43,400      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

2025 ASSESSMENT NOTIFICATION

OWNER INFORMATION

Eileen McDonald
Brian Downey-Zayas
97 Country Ridge Dr
Rye Brook, NY 10573

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,182,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,217,600    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,371,800    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,413,000    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$41,200      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,167,100    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $1,202,100    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$35,000      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 510 of the Real Property Tax Law of your tentative assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year.

This Property Has Been Classified as a *** Homestead Parcel ***

| Year       | Assessed Value | Level of Assessment |
|------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 2024       | $1,950,000    | 100.00%             |
| 2025       | $2,008,500    | 100.00%             |
| Net Change | +$58,500      |                     |

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before Grievance Day: June 17 2025.
