Charter Township of Washington, Preliminary Condo Submission Requirements:

In the preliminary review phase, the Planning Commission shall review the overall plan for the site, including basic road and unit configurations and the consistency of the plans with all applicable provisions of the Washington Township Zoning Ordinance. Plans submitted for preliminary review shall include information specified as follows:

- A certified boundary survey of the condominium site. The survey shall be tied to two established government corners.
- A plan delineating all natural and man-made features on the site, including, but not limited to, drains, ponds, lakes, streams, floodplains, wetlands and woodland areas.
- The location, size, shape, area and width of all condominium units and common areas and the location of all proposed streets. A typical unit detail including the buildable area proposed for each unit that includes the setbacks, estimated rear yard storm easements and the minimum required 10ft rear yard deck/patio setback encroachment. Any unit found in engineering review that does not satisfy the minimum deck encroachment requirement shall require an amendment to the unit and subdivision design. In such cases, the Pre-Planning Committee shall review and approve any amendment and then authorize further review by the Engineers. No unit with less than the required 10' deck area shall be accepted as a unit.

After Preliminary Condo Approval:

Once the Preliminary Condominium Plan has been approved and officially signed off on by the Development Committee, the next step is to apply for Engineering Review with the Township DPW Department. PC approvals are good for two years. If significant progress with the site has not been made within that timeframe, an extension request must be submitted in writing to appear before the Planning Commission. If you fail to apply for an extension within two years from the date of your approval, your site plan approval will expire. After Engineering Approval has been granted, the next step is to apply for the Final Condominium review with the Planning and Zoning Department. You MUST have Engineering Approval to apply for the Final Condo Review. Please follow the submission requirements outlined in the Washington Township Zoning Ordinance, you can find those online at www.washingtontownship.org

 - A utility plan showing all sanitary sewer, water and storm drainage improvements, plus all easements granted to the Township for installation, repair and maintenance of all utilities.
 - A typical unit detail is required to be shown on the final condominium plan. This typical unit detail will show the unit setbacks, 10ft rear yard deck encroachment and the storm sewer easement impact to the rear yard useable area so it is clearly shown how much property is remaining to be used for outdoor amenities.
 - A street construction, paving and maintenance plan for all streets within the proposed condominium subdivision plan.
 - A storm drainage and storm water management plan, including all lines, swales, drains, basins, and other facilities.
 - The Planning Commission approved landscaping plan, building elevation plan(s) (as applicable) and floor plan(s) (as applicable) will be recorded as part of the Master Deed Exhibit B Drawings.
