EDUCATION UPDATE.....

The Teachers Guild at Lakeland Community College is sponsoring a free, energizing virtual workshop, "#DesignCamp CLE," Tuesday, June 15, from 9-11:30 a.m., for area K-12 educators, administrators and staff. CEUs will be available for participants.

"Both remote and in-person instruction during this past school year have challenged teachers to creatively redesign how they engage and teach their students," said Rachel Siegel, program manager for Lakeland's Teachers Guild and design and innovation specialist for The Lakeland Foundation. "We want to highlight some of the incredible ideas that surfaced as a result. We invite area educators to join us—for free—to see how they, too, can playfully explore design thinking in their classrooms. Using this human-centered framework, they can test out techniques and ideas that promote meaningful learning."

#DesignCamp CLE program facilitators include Mary Kohl, second grade teacher, Perry Local Schools, Leah Konopka Hartmann, special projects lead, Lakeland Community College, Betty Jo Malchesky, assistant superintendent, Perry Local Schools, and Rachel Siegel, Teachers Guild program manager and design and innovation specialist, The Lakeland Foundation.

Online registration is available at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/designcamp-cle-registration-156130274855>

For more information, contact Rachel Siegel at 440.413.7561 or rsiegel3@lakelandcc.edu.

A NOTE FROM MAYOR ANDY GARDNER:

COVID update

Lake County has finally reported what we have been waiting to hear..."Between June 1 and June 8, Lake County saw the fewest number of newly reported weekly novel coronavirus cases since June of last year." The county saw 41 cases over the past week, down from 81 reported the week prior according to the Ohio Dept. of Health. This good news comes after the first days this week when a majority of the state's coronavirus-related health orders were lifted. Keep up the good work of being smart and vigilant and we will continue to get this kind of good news!

Congratulations to this Wednesday's winners in the Ohio Vax-a-Million Lottery – Mark Cline of Richwood in Union County won the $1 million prize and Sara Afaneh of Sheffield Lake of Lorain County won the college scholarship. As a dad of college students, I can only imagine how Sara's parents feel about sending their daughter's college tuition bill to the Governor! Best of luck to Willoughby Hills residents for future drawings!

Recycle

One of our readers asked that we post the recycle "allowables" in our newsletter, so I am attaching some information provided to us by Republic Services, our trash and recycle provider. This should help our residents to determine what is permitted in the recycle can every other week.

I apologize to any residents who may have received a recycled magnet that arrived "demagnetized." It appears that the heat may have gotten to some of the magnets, but we will exchange them at City Hall so you have a magnet that will stick to your refrigerator for easy reference on recycle dates.

Shred Day & Photo Contest Reminders:

Don't forget to stop by City Hall on Saturday for Shred Day. It is a great way to get rid of documents that you no longer need. You can watch the documents get shredded if you have any security concerns.

Remember to start taking photos now. My favorite category, of course, is "Mayor's Choice," however, you can certainly participate with your favorite photo of Willoughby Hills, animals, patriotic or hometown pride. Winning photos are displayed at City Hall and the photographers receive some great prizes!

Condolences

It is always hard to say goodbye to special people in our community. This week saw the passing of Bea Horwatt, who was an integral part of our Recreation programs and WH Boys League for more than 50 years! Bea worked tirelessly at the concession stand and all of the youngsters who played sports got to know this lovely lady. She will certainly be missed in our community. Our prayers remain with Tom Horwatt & his family.

Also, sympathy to our PD Executive Assistant Debbie Semik on the loss of her mother, Joyce Dirrman. Joyce worked as a public servant for many years and Debbie was a great caregiver to Joyce in her final years. You remain in our thoughts & prayers.
